President Helman

President A. Blair Helman graduated from Bethany Biblical Institute in 1944. He attended Illinois Institute of Technology, and graduated Magna Cum Laude from McPherson College where he was president of the student body and editor of the college paper. After earning his A.B. Degree at McPherson, President Helman went on to be awarded his M.A. from the University of Kansas where he is completing his doctoral dissertation. President Helman has served the faculties of Ottawa University, University of Kansas, and Friends University. Acting as Dean of the Kansas Institute of International Relations, Trustee of McPherson College and the Kansas Foundation of Private Colleges and Universities, Inc., President Helman has further aided the field of education.

Spending an evening at home comes so seldom to President Helman that a meal with his family becomes quite an occasion. Seated at the table are President and Mrs. Helman with Harriet Ann, nine, affectionately called "Bunny," and Patricia Dawn, five. More often President Helman is seen in attendance at auspicious occasions. Banquets are only one example of such activities.

Dean Garver

Graduating from Manchester in 1933, Dr. Earl S. Garver continued his studies at Harvard University and the University of Chicago receiving his Ph.D. Degree from Yale University in 1943. He returned to his Alma Mater, Manchester, as head of the economics department. Dean Garver is known for his support and participation in religious, educational, and economic organizations. Equally recognized is his sincere interest in youth. Students find it easy to discuss their thoughts and problems with Dr. Garver who has a genuine desire to serve.

Miss Gertrude Wiebe, Dean of Women, graduated from Wheaton College and received her M.R.E. Degree from the Biblical Seminary in New York. She was awarded her M.A. Degree from Columbia University. Miss Wiebe has a warm interest in each Manchester student and takes time from her busy schedule to talk to anyone having a concern. Dean Wiebe makes a willing and enthusiastic member of many campus activities.

Dean Wiebe

Dean Bollinger

A graduate of Manchester College, Dr. R. V. Bollinger continued his studies at the University of Wisconsin where he received his M.A. and Ph.D. Degrees. After serving on the faculty of Ashland College, Ashland, Ohio, he returned to Manchester. Dean Bollinger is one of the first personalities with whom a Manchester neophyte becomes acquainted. A cheerful smile and a keen sense of humor enhance his versatile endeavors.

Business Manager

Mr. David B. Yeatter, Business Manager and Treasurer of Manchester College, received his training from Pennsylvania State College, Bethany Biblical Seminary, University of Chicago, and the College of Business Management at the University of Omaha. He has served at Bethany and also in several banks in Pennsylvania. Mr. Yeatter manages the funds and investments of the college. His cheerful greeting betokens a vibrant personality typical of Manchester's spirit.

Director of Admissions

Paul S. Bowman, Director of Admissions, is a graduate of Dayton Junior College, Morris Harvey College in Charleston, West Virginia, and Bethany Training School. He received a B.S. degree from Manchester College in 1946, and his B.D. degree from Bethany Biblical Seminary in 1950. Mr. Bowman served as pastor of the Pleasant View Church of the Brethren for two years, and became Director of Admissions at Manchester College in 1950. Traveling is a special pleasure to Mr. Bowman who has been in all the 48 states and Canada.

Board of Trustees

The Board of Trustees consists of selected representatives from nine church districts which support the college and of other members nominated by the Board. The responsibility of this Board is to see that the purposes of the college are being fulfilled by determining policy and seeing that these policies are carried out.

Administrative Committee

The Administrative Committee is responsible for the major phases of promotion and administration. It considers internal policy and discipline problems, and serves in keeping good relations between the college and the public.

Maxine Domer, R. V. Bollinger, Howard A. Book, A. Blair Helman, Gertrude Wiebe, Earl S. Garver, Carl W. Holl, David B. Yeatter.

In Recognition

Professor Emeritus
A. R. Eikenberry

President Emeritus
Vernon F. Schwalm

The rank of President Emeritus has been granted to former President Vernon F. Schwalm; and Professor of Psychology, Emeritus, to former Professor A. R. Eikenberry.

Dr. Schwalm was President of Manchester College for 15 years. He had also served as professor of history and as Dean of the College.

Professor Eikenberry was a member of the college faculty for 39 years. In addition to his teaching duties, he was Dean of Men from 1938 to 1946.

The college community is deeply grateful for the many years of loyal service given by these two outstanding figures in Manchester's history.

Who's Who

Nineteen seniors were selected by Manchester to represent the college in the 1958 edition of Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. These students were selected on the basis of scholarship, ability, extra-curricular activities, citizenship, and relationships with others.

Class of 1958

As the senior class of 1958 look back at the campus for the last time as students, they are filled with the memories of the activities of the past year—the climax of their life at Manchester.

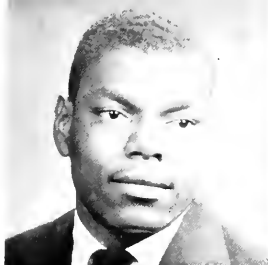

Their pride in being the largest graduating class in Manchester's history is swelled by the capture of the bat at Camp Mack for the third year in succession, and the selection of 19 students to represent their class in the Who's Who Among Students in American Universities and Colleges. Ditch Day, student teaching, the Junior-Senior reception, and Senior Recognition Day, topped with Baccalaureate and Commencement, all went into the making of one great year.

Serving as officers for the year were Max Snider, Roddy Rodkey, Elaine Rodkey, and Kay Barnhart, with the help of Dr. Orpurt, the faculty advisor.

Diploma in hand, the seniors take their places as freshmen on the Road of Life, stepping forward to challenge the world.

Class of 1959

A fine spirit, responsible leadership, and high scholastic ability are all characteristic of the junior class. Still another year has been jotted down in their memories as the best yet. Their attempts to down the seniors on Ditch day in the winter turned to efforts to express their respect and admiration at the Junior-Senior Reception in the spring. Personalities, too, have made their showing. In addition to the Aurora editor and the fall-term editor of the Oak Leaves, the Queen of the May was also chosen from their number, along with the Maid of Honor. Officers of the class were president Don Hardman, vice president Dave Fike, secretary Lois Harshbarger, and treasurer Gary Foltz. Professor Niswander served as class sponsor. With a successful past and a promising future, the juniors are eagerly anticipating their new role as seniors in the fall.

Class of 1960

It was with a different sort of anticipation that the sophomores again approached Manchester's campus in the fall. For at that time they were returning as upperclassmen who "knew their way around"; and to prove their worth, they began to assume more responsibilities and display their leadership in the various campus activities. The class-sponsored all school party, "The Roaring Twenties," proved to be a unique and clever contribution to Manchester's social life. Later, the sophomores continued to play host to the school at the annual Valentine Banquet. Class officers: Connie Maugans, president; Howard Royer, vice president; Nelda Weaver, secretary; and Bob Brenner, treasurer. Serving as faculty advisor was Professor William Gnagey.

Class of 1961

Although the first few days on campus found the freshmen somewhat bewildered and perhaps a trifle homesick, they somehow managed to survive the busy whirl of Freshman Days and settle down to the task of studying. They soon found that college life wasn't all study, however, as they began participating in popcorn parties, organizations, and various campus activities out of which were formed many lasting friendships. They also did their part in helping to elect Eleanor Muntzing to reign as queen of the Valentine Banquet. Activities were successfully led this year by Ron Weaver, president; Richard Tobias, vice president; Maurine Smith, secretary; and Sharon Neher, treasurer. Professor Baumgart served as sponsor.

Events

DOWN IN THE VALLEY

Festival of Music

The Festival of Music, the occasion of the year for musically inclined Manchesterites, consists of programs displaying many facets of the music departments abilities. An evening of operas, a recital for advanced students, and a symphonic band concert complemented the series. It is significant to note that the musical score and libretto of the opera, Ruwana, were written by Professor R. Gary Deavel and Gladden Schrock.

RUWANA

Work Day

With all classes dismissed, Manchester students and faculty worked side by side to give the campus a face-lifting in preparation for May Day. This annual event gives those participating an opportunity to gain the first blisters of the spring and to receive reward for their toil by making their campus a place to be proud of. An informal picnic held behind Oakwood and a square dance for those with energy remaining were the concluding activities of the day.

May Day Circus

Queen of the May, Joyce Rust

May Day, 1957, was initiated by a 16-float parade carrying out the theme of "Circus Fever." Joyce Rust, attended by the maid of honor, Lois Cosner, was crowned Queen of the May on the Kenapocomoco field. Entertainment for the queen and her court consisted of strongmen, gymnasiasts, and liontamers with a sprinkling of clowns throughout. A reception was held in the afternoon to give visitors and friends an opportunity to meet the queen and her court. For the hardier spectators, the afternoon also afforded a three-way track meet, a baseball game, and a tennis match as the Spartans displayed their athletic prowess. A banquet in the Social Room of Oakwood Hall brough the afternoon festivities to a close.

Flibbertygibbet

Prof. Jim Overholt

The concluding event of May Day was Tri Alpha's presentation of "Flibbertygibbet," a fantasy for children. "Flibbertygibbet" was played by Gladden Schrock with supporting roles by Mary Alice Gilchrist, Robert Durnbaugh, Dwayne Wrightsman Andrea Borla, Adele Gingrich, Janet West, and Rudolph Harley. This also was the concluding production for Professor Jim Overholt in the capacity of faculty advisor of Tri Alpha at Manchester College.

Dress Revue

Taking the hit song title Round and Round as a theme, the Colhecon Club presented its annual dress revue. Colhecon sponsors this event to give students an opportunity to model their garments and to create interest among high school girls considering home economics as a career. The narrator, Shirley Eis, described the creations shown by the models in 12 different scenes. Adding the finishing touches to the program, a reception was held by the foods department.

Graduation

Fulfilling tradition, faculty members and graduates led down the walk to the auditorium for the graduation exercises as families and friends gathered for the occasion. Dr. Desmond Bittinger, President of McPherson College delivered the challenging address. Following the presentation of diplomas, the seniors participated in the closing ceremony on the lawn.

Model UN

Manchester serves high schools of the vicinity in several ways. Two such examples are the mock United Nations assembly and High School Band Day. The college-sponsored mock assembly of high school and college students was highlighted this year by the presence of foreign students from Fort Wayne who represented their home countries. Delegates representing the thirty-one U.N. countries debated pertinent topics dealing with current international problems. High school band students of this area have a chance to get a glimpse of college life as they are guests of the Manchester music department for a Saturday. The bands spend the forenoon in rehearsing together and taking guided tours of the campus. In the afternoon the combined bands perform at the beginning and half of the football game. These events provide valuable experience for both high school and college students.

Burton presents bat to Snider.

Camp Mack Outing

Camp Mack Outing is the time for the whole campus community to migrate to Lake Wabec for a day of fun and fellowship. Besides various noncompetitive games and activities, the classes vie to win the coveted bat which is awarded to the class accumulating the greatest number of points in competitive sports. The Seniors proved victorious this year as they edged out the Juniors and took home the bat. This annual outing gives students and faculty an opportunity to become better acquainted as they participate, informally, in the day's activities.

Breakaway

Breakaway, Manchester's answer to Sadie Hawkin's Day, is the weekend when the tables are turned on the fellows as the girls take the initiative in the dating process. "Grab-a-Gander" provided the theme around which numerous events were staged this year. One may follow Sharon Neher, a freshman enthusiast, who displays her acquired gentlemanlike manners as she picks up a date and attends the football game, hayride, and banquet.

Homecoming

The return of hundreds of alumni marked Homecoming, 1957, as a memorable event in the college year. Past classes were reunited and varsity lettermen swapped tales at the M Club luncheon. On Friday evening, the students, joining in the Homecoming spirit, gathered steam for the activities by participating in the snake dance and bonfire; freshman boys contributed by painting the streets. Keen competition was evidenced as M Club won top honors for their display. For alumni and students alike, the day afforded athletic contests with Franklin in tennis, cross country and football.

Right You Are

People of diverse types were portrayed in Tri Alpha's Homecoming presentation, "Right You Are (If You Think You Are)." The play conveyed the basic philosophy of its Italian author, Pirandello, concerning the nature and form of reality. Mike Weybright as Lamberto Laudisi embodied the sentiment that you are right if you think you are.

Mother's Day

Mother's Day was of special significance because of the dedication of East Hall, the new dorm for women. A tour of East Hall and an ensuing reception, a banquet, and the string symphony provided the feature attractions for the visiting mothers.

Dad's Day

With 460 fathers and visitors on campus for Dad's Day, activities were initiated with an informal coffee hour and business meeting in which it was voted to give money for another block of post office boxes. Highlights of the afternoon and evening included the football game, a banquet and an address given by a former outstanding Manchester College coach, Carl W. Burt.

C. E. Week

Manchester College, a church related institution, devotes one week of special attention to the challenge of Christian living. Chapels, discussion groups, forums, luncheons, club meetings, and evening services were arranged in order for the students to meet with the guest speaker, Dr. James Robinson, pastor of the Church of the Master and the Morningside Community Center in Harlem. Dr. Robinson challenged us to keep Christian ideals foremost in our lives so we may be able to solve the problems of life that we shall face.

Valentine Banquet

Sophomores had their day as Cupid's helpers when they presented the social highlight of the winter season, the Valentine Banquet. Reigning over the banquet was Queen Eleanor Muntzing crowned by last year's Queen, Jackie Ernst. In the court were Misses Alice Mabie, Jo Ella Masterson, and Marcia Fidler. Following coronation ceremonies and banquet a variety program rounded out festivities.

Community Council

President Paul Burton

Community Council is composed of six faculty members, sixteen students, one general staff member, and President Helman in an ex officio capacity. This governing body acts as a coordinator for student activities as they affect the college community. Meeting once each week, it also acts as the voice of the community to the administration and the trustees. Activities sponsored were Camp Mack Outing, Breakaway, Homecoming, Workday, and May Day. Two weekend retreats were held at Camp Mack to clarify the many vital issues concerning council authority. Paul Burton proved himself to be a capable and energetic leader during 1957-58 as president and head of the executive committee. Professor Baumgart served as vice president; Janet Ball, secretary; Lowell Cook, treasurer; Bud Tully, additional member.

There are curious rooms where the walls are covered with colorful pictures, the shelves are filled with old school annuals, the windows don't work, the radiators work overtime, and the desks are littered with elements diverse. It was in such a room on the third floor of the Administration Building that the Aurora office was located and from whence issued the activities resulting in Manchester's yearbook under the direction of editor John Norris. While the new typewriter worked overtime, schedules, deadlines, photography appointments, business transactions, dummies and proofs were being transformed into the 1958 Aurora. An able assist was given to the staff by the faculty advisor, Dr. Lloyd Hoff.

Oak Leaves

"Oak Leaves," Manchester's weekly newspaper, informs its readers of current campus events. Editorials, feature stories, and poetic contributions have stimulated the students' thinking, while "Under the Oaks" is the place to look for information on the latest nonsense. The twenty-six staff members are offered many opportunities to contribute their creative abilities; a year on the "Oak Leaves" staff offers experience and satisfaction to those interested in journalism. Sharon Gongwer served as editor after Mary Bitting's resignation at the end of the fall term. Professor Conkling was advisor.

The Crucible

December 13 and 14 saw one of the outstanding dramas of contemporary times, presented by Tri Alpha. "The Crucible," written by Arthur Miller, is a dramatic and thought-provoking play concerning the Salem witch trials of 1692. The production told the story of a simple farmer's struggle against mass hysteria of the time, in which he and his friends were caught and eventually lost their lives. Prominent actors were Ron Weaver, Janet West, Dwayne Wrightsman, Mike Weybright, and Jo Ella Masterson.

Fifth row: Leland Beery, Paul Parks, Bud Tully, Don Binkley, Ron Lindower, Tom Deal, Joe Kitchel, Tom Gnagey, Ed Crawford, Ken Workman.

M Club

The Varsity "M" Club, now in its fourth year of reorganization, is open to any athlete earning an eight-inch letter in a sport. The club consists of forty-five members who exemplify the principles of the Spartan Code by participation in school events as well as by performing services at athletic contests. The selling of programs at athletic events, the giving of several parties during the school year, and the donation of an American Flag for the Auditorium are typical of these services. The club and Athletic Committee joined forces to climax the year by playing host to members of the athletic teams and their guests at the annual All Sports Banquets.

Women's Recreation Association provides an opportunity to develop leadership and officiating skills as well as promote carry-over values into leisure time activities. Good sportsmanship as well as fun and friendship is gained through its sports and intramural activities. Basketball, volleyball, softball and individual sports, such as badminton, are included in its program. College Play Day, an All-Star Game, Sports Night, an annual Awards Banquet, and a party at Christmas and Valentine's Day round out a busy year of activities. Holding office were Eleanor Reisinger, president; Alice Royer, vice president; Alberta Denlinger, secretary; Belva Aten, treasurer; Lou Ann Archbold and Jane Wagner, activities chairmen; Nancy Harmon, points; Jackie Ernst, publicity; and Miss Loveland, sponsor.

Second row: Sondra Miley, Shirley Cree, Vaughn Stocksdales, Rolf Theen.

Debate

"Resolved: That the requirement of membership in a labor organization as a condition of employment should be illegal." This was the national topic on which Manchester's team debated in competition with other colleges and universities. This forensic group also participated in oratory, extemporaneous speaking and discussion. To encourage training and experience in effective, intelligent, and responsible speech is the goal of members of Tau Kappa Alpha, the honorary speech fraternity. High scholastic average and two years. This forensic group also participated in oratory, site for admittance. Pledges carry the traditional soap box and deliver a twenty-minute speech on any nonsense topic as part of the initiation. A formal ritual is then held for all candidates. Phil Shellhaas, Don Hardman, Sondra Miley, and Dr. Paul Keller, advisor, served in official capacities.

Tau Kappa Alpha

Officers: Sondra Miley, Phil Shellhaas, Don Hardman, Professor Keller.

Young Democrats

Organized only a year ago, this club purposes to educate its members in the principles of their own party as well as in the basic fundamentals of government today. Its campus activity has been led by James Looker as president; Phyllis Hoyer, vice president; Ruth Ann Davis, secretary-treasurer; Bernard Cripe, parliamentarian; Dr. Book, sponsor.

Jim Looker, Ruthanne Davis, Rosanna Briegel, Jeanette Wince, Phyllis Hoyer, Judy Herr, Bernard Cripe.

Young Republicans

The Young Republican Club states as its objective the training of young people for effective political work. It was concerned this year with collecting, analyzing and discussing information concerning its party's political affairs. Officers for the year were Lynda Pettit; president; Bill Christopher, vice president; Jo Irick, secretary-treasurer; Dr. C. Ray Keim, sponsor.

Octo Rolo

Eight rollers has each skater, and thus Octo Rolo came to be named. The skaters are divided into two sections with one president for both groups. Basic skate includes those beginners who wish to learn the fundamentals; advanced skate consists of those that can skate backwards, display a spread eagle, and wish to learn the dances and free style. Ron McAdams was president, and Miss Loveland served as sponsor for both groups. Basic section officers included Keim Houser, vice president; Gail Dunbar, secretary; Doreen Sharma, treasurer. Advanced section officers were Marilyn Throne, vice president; Beverly Wysong, secretary; Joby Stangland, treasurer.

Second row: Norman Metzger, Al Nyce, Ron Hill, Hans Sebald, Phil Myers, Ray Harner, Joe Noffsinger, John Norris, Professor Royer.

First row: Dwight Beery, Henry Chai, Esther Whisler, Betty Hoover, Esther Shull, Emmert Johansen.

I. R. C.

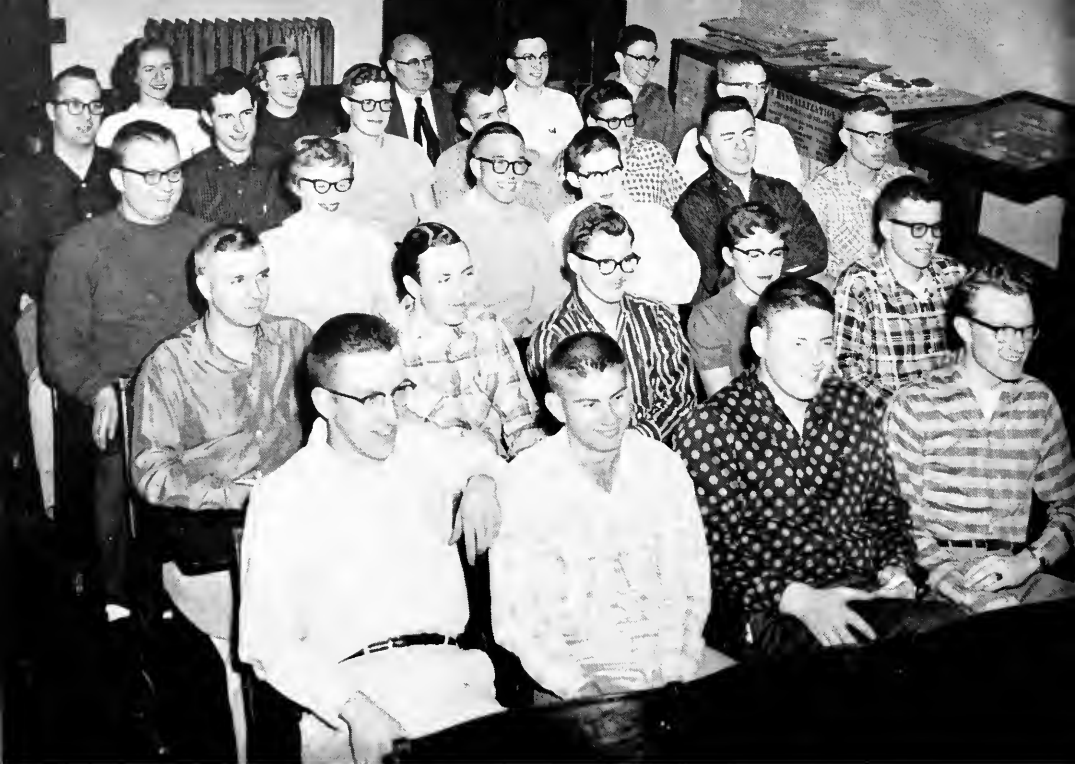

International Relations Club stimulates interest in current problems. Guiding this year's programs were Dwight Beery, Phil Myers, Betty Hoover, Ron Hill, Esther Whistler, Joe Noffsinger and Dr. Royer.

Alpha Psi Omega, national honorary dramatics organization, includes those who display outstanding ability and service. Leaders were Gladden Shrock, Bob Durnbaugh, June Wenger and Professor Baldwin.

Alpha Psi Omega

Gene Stocksdale, Josie Rinehart, Bob Durnbaugh, Dwayne Wrightsman, Howard Ballinger, Myron Weybright, June Wenger, Janet West, Gladden Schrock.

Fifth row: Martha Early, Darlene Easterday, Dr. Weimer, J. D. Masterson, Paul Masterson.
 Fourth row: Wally Strycker, Bob Brown, Dean Strycker, John Holl, Roger Dilling, Alan Frantz.
 Third row: Bob Burt, Marilyn Gump, Phil Shellhaas, Neal Franks, Roddey Rodkey, Doug Vanator.
 Second row: Dick Yoder, John Sands, John Wittwer, Marcia Taylor, Wendell Dilling.
 First row: Harry Keffer, Alan Belcher, Bill Christopher, Emmert Johansen.

Al Kima

Deriving its name from "al kimia", the Greek word for early chemists, this club endeavors to give those students interested in science, specifically chemistry, an opportunity to become better acquainted with the field of chemistry and its related areas. This is appropriately accomplished by means of field trips, lectures, films, demonstrations, and reports concerning recent developments in science. The club participated in a tour through an industrial plant and in a science open house for the entire campus community. Serving as president was Neal Franks, vice president Paul Masterson, and Marcia Taylor as secretary-treasurer.

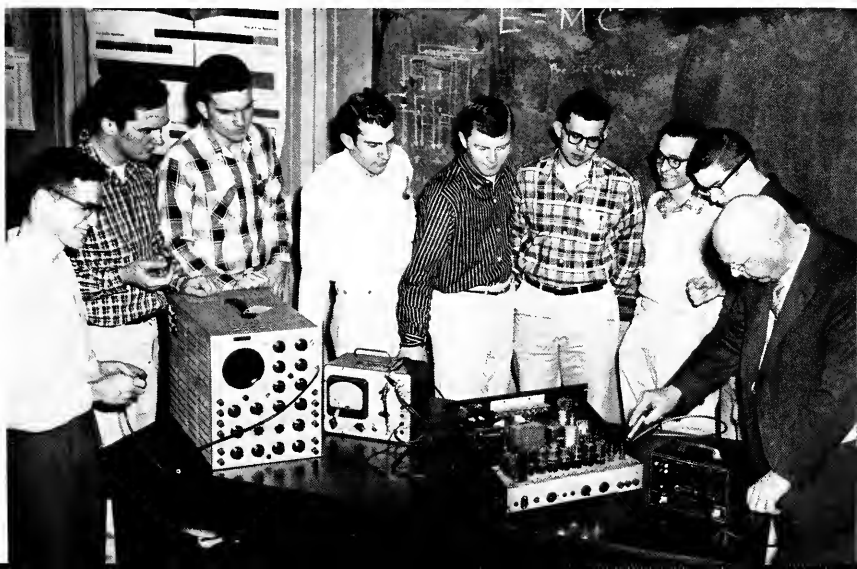

Morris Firebaugh, Virgil Huber, Elliott Chamberlain, John LaRue, Silas Howard, Dennis Roby, Roger Dilling, Dwight Beery, John Jackson.

Mu Pi Sigma

Organized for the purpose of increasing interest and enthusiasm in the field of physics, Mu Pi Sigma has done quite well in keeping its members informed. Members within the club presented experiments on such topics as ultraviolet, visible and gamma ray spectroscopy, while outside programs, such as the one presented by Goshen College, rounded out the agenda. Directing the activities of this campus chapter of the national honorary society were: Dennis Roby, president; Virgil Huber, vice president; Dwight Beery, secretary-treasurer; and Dr. Morris, advisor to the group.

Dick Slabaugh, Terry King, Al Keiser, Howard Ballinger, Don Shamp, Wendell Dilling, Merrill Chamberlain, Neal Franks, Dr. Morris.

 Fifth row: Morris Firebaugh, Wendell Dilling, Professor Baumgart, Virgil Huber, Larry Leffel.
 Third row: John Leffel, Ron McAdams, Dean Strycker, Leonard Snyder, Dale McCauley.
 Second row: Professor Dotterer, Lou Ann Archbold, Diana Maddux, Dona Mann.
 First row: Sharon Neher, Sharon Craft.

Chi Psi

To further the interest of mathematics, to develop an appreciation of the significance of math, and to realize the importance of its role in our civilization today are among the objectives of Chi Psi. Having been an active club for more than thirty years, Chi Psi has the honor of being the oldest club on Manchester's campus. Activities of the group include programs dealing directly or indirectly with mathematical interests. Leading the club as officers this year were Rose Krall, Nelson Zinsmeister, Sharon Craft, and Glenn Schmucker, with Professors Baumgart and Dotterer serving as sponsors.

Second row: Howard Royer, Paul Parks, Roger Swaim, Orie Hostetler, Frank Brower, Lowell King, Dave Bagwell.

Click Clique is composed of members who have an interest in a better understanding of the methods of photography and its uses. A photography contest is an annual event, and members of Click Clique always come through with interesting and oftentimes unique pictures. Members become familiar with camera construction, darkroom techniques, and lighting methods. Heading the organization were Jack Cox, Dave Sausaman, and Don Imhoff.

Manchester's newest organization, the Conservation Club, includes a group of students who are interested in becoming more familiar with nature and learning practical methods of conserving natural resources. Projects have included placing several bird feeders around campus and writing congressmen concerning bills pertaining to matters of conservation. Organizers were Dick Endress, Lowell King, and Paul Parks. Professor Philip Orpurt was sponsor.

Conservation Club

Second row: Professor Orpurt, Dick Endress, Alan Kieffaber, Tim Jones, Bill James.

First row: Bill Foster, Paul Parks.

 Third row: Dan Moats, Barbara Zartman, Harolaine Hoover, John Sennett, Jim Rhoads, Marvin Loutzenhizer.
 Second row: Bernard Cripe, Maurice Oatley, Alnia Ezra, Virginia Kinder, Roberta Herl, Nancy Layman, Peggy Loxley, Joan Coffing, Doris Stover, Nellie Elder.

Business Club

A keen interest in business practices is the main requirement for gaining admittance into this organization. To become familiar with modern progressive methods and systems in business is included in this group's objectives, endeavoring by such means to raise and maintain a higher standard of training for business.

Don Rush acting as club president was aided by Larry Gilmer, vice president; Doris Stover, secretary; Jim Rhoads, treasurer; and Miss Johnson and Miss Sanger, co-sponsors.

 Seventh row: Jan Townsend, Janet Arnold, Barb Bender, Nelda Weaver, Janet McClurg, Carol Kay Friedley, Bev Hoover.
 Sixth row: Arleen Freels, JoElla Masterson, Norma Corbett, Anita Buchwalter, Susan Joseph, Eldonna Porter.
 Fifth row: Sundra Reppert, Anne Frantz, Elaine Rodkey, Flora Rouch, Kathy McClung, Retta Wilson, Elaine Kessler, Mary Pippenger, Mary Johansen, Reta Whiteneck.
 Fourth row: Sally Wing, Evelyn Gottmann, Wilma Smith, Carolyn Durkes, Janet Ball, Miss Stech, Charlotte Hiatt, Rosalee Dillon, Miss Dare.
 Third row: Linda Mikesell, Janet Ulsh, Kay Groff, Rosie Hellwarth, Jo Ellen Gerdes, Janis Moore, Nancy Harman, Belva Aten, Jane Wagner, Janet Hilleary.
 Second row: Nancy Snyder, Lois Parrot, Marie Libey, Joan Michael, Barb Nesemeier, Ila Showalter, Roberta Stiving.
 First row: Barb Wilson, Sylvia Rieman, Lorna Johnson, Sharon Frick, JoAnn Clingenpeel, Lois Brown, Delores Blocher.

Colhecon

Colhecon, the College Home Economics club, is affiliated with both the state and national organizations. Each of the ninety-nine members of this club gain through its activities personal poise, social development, an interest and a growing knowledge and appreciation for the various phases of the domestic arts. In addition to bi-weekly meetings which concern almost every phase of homemaking—such as floral arrangements, interior decorating, and personal grooming—specific activities include an annual banquet, candy sale, a coffee hour at Homecoming and a dress review. Supervising the activities were Charlotte Hiatt, Janet Ball, Kathy McClung, Loretta Bryant, Miss Dare and Miss Stech; for the latter half of the year were Reta Whiteneck, Mary Pippenger, Belva Aten, and Janet Ball.

Choral Society

Choral Society is the musical organization which includes all members of A Cappella Choir, Chapel Choir, and Women's Glee Club. Other students who are interested in singing may join this organization. Membership is not gained by audition, but by enthusiasm and willingness to support the group in all rehearsals. The society, composed of one hundred seventy-five voices, presented "The Creation" during the Easter season.

Second row: John Leffel, Betty Hoover, Don Curie, Miss Coblentz, Joyce Leckrone, Marie Leckrone, Miss Gosnell, Reta Whiteneck.

First row: Larry Leffel, Lois Brown, Gail Dunbar, Norma Corbett, Martha Kretsch, Esther Shull, Nancy Olinger, Linna Mae Miller, Carol Merrow, Janet Hilleary.

Library Staff

Consisting of twenty students, the library staff serves the college community by assisting students in making the best use of Manchester's library. The staff organization was led by Janet Hilleary, Reta Whiteneck, and Miss Thurmyle Gosnell, faculty advisor.

A national honorary mathematics organization, Kappa Mu Epsilon, strives to foster a high standard of scholarship and training in the field of mathematics. Having its initial meeting in 1950, the club was the first chapter to be established in the state, and since then has been increasing to include a total membership of eighty-one.

A Cappella

A Cappella was organized twelve years ago by Dr. Clyde Holsinger. It is a closely knit group of forty-one members striving to develop the proper technique of choral singing and musical interpretation. In September the choir traveled to Camp Mack for a week-end of organization and rehearsal for future performances. One of the highlights of the year was the tour through Northern Illinois during the Easter vacation when it performed in the churches and schools of that area. The group also participated in the Regional Conference of the Church of the Brethren on campus. Serving as officers were Ross Eshleman, Truman Reinoehl, Nancy Cottingham, Rose Krall, and Dr. Clyde Holsinger, advisor and director.

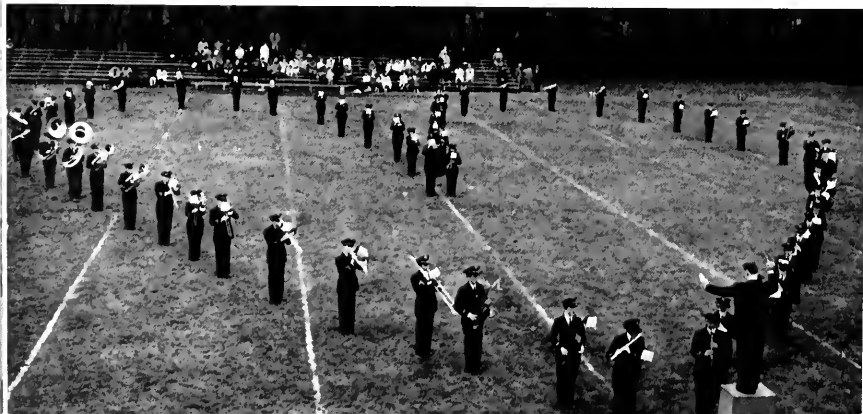

Dr. Clyde Holsinger is shown engaged in some of the antics which induce the choir members to do their best.

Varsity Band

The varsity band has displayed its versatility on numerous occasions. As a marching group, it presented special half-time shows for all home football games. It acted as host for High School Day and provided a pep band for basketball games. In a symphonic capacity, the band presented a Christmas chapel program, concerts in local high schools, and the Twilight Concert. Officers were Bobb Keaffaber, John Sprinkle, Ruth Dunn, Myra Kerch, Richard Berg, George Steele, and director David McCormick.

Third row: Shirley Campbell, Nancy Welborn, Carol Gremel, Ron Kuhn, Barbara Schnepf, Jerry Peters, Marcella Parker, Linda Lorenz, Harolaine Hoover, Bob LeFevre, Carolyn Brock, Judy Wygant, Marilyn Paton, Sue Eldridge, Bill Yaney, Ruth Dunn, Howard Royer, Carolyn Schuler, Spencer Turner, Sue Borton, Jean Wright, Paul Masterson.

Second row: Ron Sand, Linda Frederick, Marlene Van Dyke, Marcia Denlinger, Joyce Wort, Rose Krall, Don Deardorff, JoElla Masterson, Pat Leighty, John Weeks, Sue Bollinger, Myra Kerch, Sonia Studebaker, Alice Strebins.

Workshop Band

By training students who desire to gain experience with various instruments, the workshop band affords an opportunity for future music teachers to gain an insight into the techniques of instrumental instruction. Public performance is not a purpose of this organization, but rather, the twenty members who participate in workshop band as a part of their academic curriculum, become acquainted with the fundamentals of instruments and gain a knowledge of the interpretation of band music.

Second row: Diane Sprouls, Gerald Miller, Rose Krall, Dave Jones, Bill Lehman, Maurice Mishler, Ed Niles, Professor McCormick, Ellen Joseph, Agnes Barefoot, Clara Buchanan, Ruth Dunn.

First row: Marcella Parker, Elaine Poe, Caral Mechling, Joyce Moore, Dick Berg, Eleanor Huffman.

Fifth row: Diane Sprouls, Barry Deardorff, Willard Dulabaum, John Sprinkle, M. Gene Coe.

First row: Marilyn Whitmore, Carol Stout, John Barr, Beverly Shull, Vernon Stinebaugh, Lloyd Hoff, Don Godlevski, Guy Rumsey, Janet Arnold.

Civic Symphony

To bring the finest in music to the college and community in the area of orchestra is the goal of this group which will be celebrating its twentieth anniversary next year. The group was founded in 1939 as a civic organization and merged with the college in 1943. It is fairly certain that no community equal in size to or smaller than North Manchester can boast of such a group. This sixty-six member organization is directed by Professor Vernon Stinebaugh of the Manchester College faculty. Serving as officers for the present year were John Barr, president; Rosemary Manifold, vice president; Anita Bollinger, secretary and treasurer.

Jon David Toth

Each year Civic Symphony presents three programs in which guest soloists are featured. Sigurd Racher appeared in the spring, followed by the Elkhart High School Choir in November and Jon David Toth in the winter concert.

Third row: David Royer, Alberta Denlinger, Rose Mary Bollinger, Larry West, Dick Berg, Pat Wales, Marge Lindower, Professor Stinebaugh, Spencer Turner, Dick Beeler, Bonita Gibble, Ardon Denlinger.

Second row: Anita Bollinger, Clara Buchanan, Nancy Sigmund, Marcia Denlinger, Virginia Kinder, Janet Arnold, Guy Rumsey.

String Symphony

Under the direction of Vernon H. Stinebaugh, the String Symphony completed its twelfth consecutive season. In the winter concert the symphony was assisted by the newly organized faculty-staff chorus. The highlight of the year was the annual String Festival held in conjunction with Mother's Day, in which over 200 high school students from northern Indiana participated. Serving as officers were Guy Rumsey, president; Carol Stout, vice president; and David Royer, secretary-treasurer.

Chapel Choir

The Chapel Choir, now in its second year, adds much to the inspiration of Wednesday chapels. Anthems, responses, and antiphonal singing with the audience constitute its offerings to the worship atmosphere. Heading the organization were Dave Cheal, Ed Niles, Ruth Ann Singrey, Kay Farrar, and Clyde Holsinger, sponsor and director.

Woman's Glee Club

The Women's Glee Club gives its thirty members musical experience and enjoyment through its performances for local churches, high schools, and the college community. During the Christmas season, the group presented a chapel program and a "Twilight Program" at the Church of the Brethren. At Easter, a concert was given at the Lutheran Church, and another in co-operation with the choral society for the campus community. Officers were Maxine Carey, Janet Conner, and Professo Gary Deavel, director.

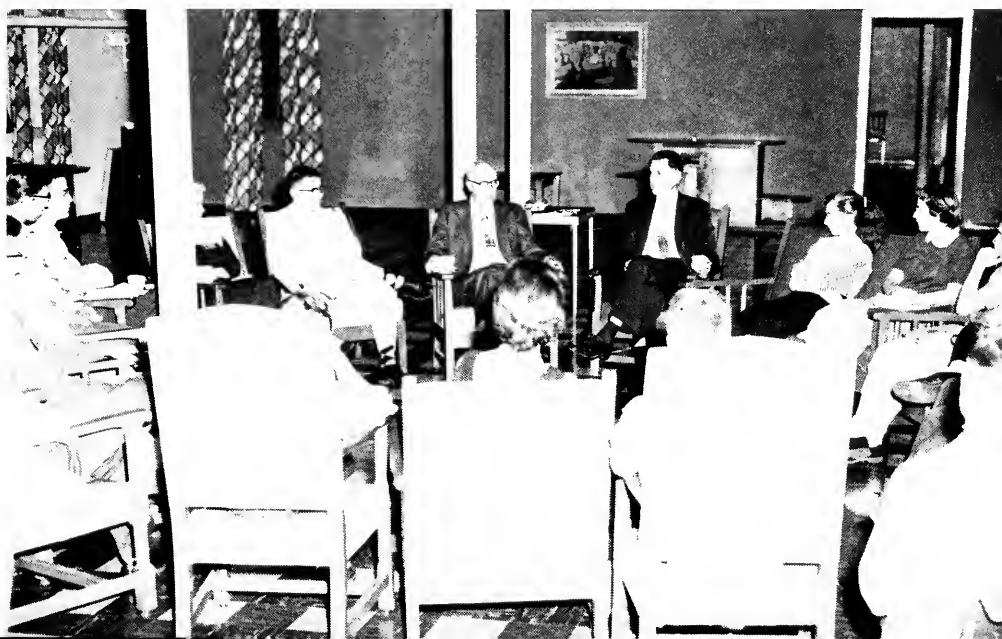

Co-ordinating committee, Mrs. Wilson, June Wenger, Professor Schuhle, Romelle Swigart, Jon Cullum, Louella Rasor, Don Rickner, Dave Kreider, Evelyn Grisso, Professor Rieman, Barry Deardorff.

M. C. A.

The Manchester Christian Association is comprised of Christian students of the college community. Its several facets are directed by a co-ordinating committee, each member of which also serves as a member of one of the other M. C. A. committees or cabinets. Students may join its fellowship by regular participation in one or several of its organizational activities. All a part of M.C.A., Church School is an interdenominational group meeting every Sunday morning in the Winger Recital Hall; Church Vocations gives the students insights into the duties and inspirations of those working in the church; Midweek Programs provide the campus with a variety of programs to widen the students' scope of religious living and responsibility; Cells are small groups of individuals formed to discuss with other young people the problems and situations that they encounter in the process of growing up spiritually, mentally, and socially; Denominational Fellowships give students a chance to participate in a program of their own denomination on Sunday evenings; Retreats are small groups which spend a weekend growing spiritually together; Deputations teams present Sunday worship services in the area; the Service Committee initiates service drives and projects, such as the World University Service Drive; Leadership Training tries to help each student use and develop his abilities in some campus organization; the Meditations Committee presents WMIB meditations, cares for the meditation chapel, and makes worship material available to the students.

Exemplary of activities that come about under MCA, are these portrayed here as MSM is seen in fellowship during a Sunday evening meal, and Church Vocations is shown attending a coffee hour with Dr. Harold Ehrensperger of the Boston School of Theology.

Baseball

Manchester Spartans began the 1957 season by winning a double header from Taylor behind the pitching of seniors Collins and Miller. However, as the season progressed the team faltered somewhat from past years' performance by failing to continue their winning ways. The season closed with an over-all record of eight wins and ten losses. The Hoosier College Conference record stood at five and seven. Faudree led the team in batting with an average of .333, closely followed by Alt with .293. Likens batted .290 and led the team in runs batted in with 15. Rounding out his sixth year at Manchester, Coach Claude Wolfe directed the team through out the spring.

Track

Under the guidance of Coach Burr Weddle and his assistant, Paul Burton, the Manchester thinlies in 1957 had one of their most successful seasons. The year began as the Spartans placed second behind Indiana Central among the eight teams at the Rose Poly Relays. May Day saw Manchester placing second again with Indiana Central first and Taylor third. Following this, three impressive wins were scored against Earlham, Anderson, and Valparaiso, consecutively. Serving as host school for the conference track meet, Manchester placed fifth. Leading the Spartans in scoring was Ralph Bushong with his outstanding works in the field. With a large number in training, the team possessed a wide variety of ability which provided for a powerful attack.

Football

Bob Walton, Burr Weddle, Claude Wolfe, Dave Palsgrove.

The honor of being captain was divided between Paul Burton and Led Benton this season. Jim Easton was chosen most valuable player on this year's squad by the team personnel. In the all-conference selection, four Spartan stand-outs were chosen to represent Manchester: Paul Burton, a senior playing tackle; Led Benton, a senior center; Jim Easton, junior quarterback; and Bill Deisher, freshman line-backer.

All—Conference

Taking time out from practice for a few minutes are head coach Weddle, assistant coaches Wolfe and Walton, and student coach Palsgrove. Eldred Weddle, better known as Burr, is in his second year of coaching at M.C. after playing football for Manchester during '51 and '52. A Manchester graduate in 1940, Claude Wolfe is coaching his seventh year at M.C. Joining the staff this year is Ronald Walton, a 1950 graduate. A student, David Palsgrove, assisted in the coaching of freshmen and did pre-game scouting.

After tasting defeat from Ashland, Hanover, and Anderson, the Spartans came up with the initial victory of the '57 season by trimming Navy Pier of Chicago, 21-0. Combining passing and running ability, Manchester defeated Navy Pier, having scored all its points in the first half. Although Manchester led at halftime, 14-7, Indiana Central pushed the ball across for two touchdowns, sending the score to 21-14 as time ran out in the Homecoming game. Upsetting host Earlham's plan for a perfect Homecoming, Manchester led at the half 21-0, with scoring by Easton and Rondeau. In the second half, M.C. scored three times, leaving the unhappy Quakers with a score of 40-7. Using everything possible, including Dad's spirit and money, didn't seem to be enough as the Spartans fell before favored Bluffton 40-28. Closing out the season, the conference leaders evidenced surprise as Manchester turned in a near upset, backed with that attitude of not giving up till the game ended. The offense and defense were successful in holding the favored Taylor team to a 13-13 tie.

Despite the fact that there were only a few participants out for cross-country, Coach Ralph Bushong and his team finished the season with three wins and four losses in dual competition. The Harriers also finished fifth in an invitational meet at Earlham and placed fourth in the HCC. The team was led by John Norris and Gary Sriver who were the top two men on the squad. Backing them were Dave Hoke, John Moore, Roy Swihart, Karyl Hartzler, and Mark Stidham.

Repeating last year's successful season, the Spartan tennis team again vied for top honors in the field under the direction of coach Bill Sayers. The netmen finished the year with 7 wins and 2 losses and placed second in the Hoosier College Conference. The opening match of the year with Hanover was stopped due to rain in the deciding set which left the match a tie. Manchester continued their conference schedule undefeated as did their early opponent, Hanover. This unusual development necessitated a play-off of the rained-out doubles in order to determine the conference winner. Though Hanover proved victorious, Manchester earned a most respectable second place.

Cheerleaders

In addition to the athletic team members, the cheerleaders and managers help to make any sport a success. Leading the Spartan cheers were Donna Briggs, Pat Nussel, Larry McKinley, and Larry Weaver; Dick Rondeau joined the crew during the basketball season. Managers for the different sports were: baseball—John Hempbill; football—Larry Bishop, Dean Burket, Steve Earl, George McKinney; basketball—Gene Albert and Ron Langley for the Varsity, and Dave Bagwell and Larry Bishop for the "B" Team.

The 1958 season marks the completion of the seventh year that Claude Wolfe has coached at Manchester College. In this time, he has led his team to many victories highlighted by two conference titles. Besides the importance of the game, Coach Wolfe places emphasis on the individual, so that each who works with him strives to do his best. Assisting Wolfe this year were former player Dan Anglin, and the manager, Gene Albert.

The varsity basketball team played in an up-and-down fashion during the 1957-58 season. On one occasion the team was rolled over by Anderson 121 to 66, but in two other attempts, the Spartans proved their power by scoring 116 over Ashland and 112 over Marian. The season play had begun with two consecutive wins and by January 11th the Spartans had won 5 out of 8 ballgames as well as having been the runners up in the Kalamazoo Holiday Tourney. Then things got a little rugged as Manchester suffered five straight losses, the largest margin, however, being only seven points. Ending the losing streak was the impressive win over Ashland, counteracted by a decided loss to Anderson. The Spartans regained their footing to go on to win the five games remaining in the season. Thrilling home victories over conference opponents Hanover and Franklin enabled Manchester to finish fourth in the conference with an overall record of 11 wins and 9 losses. Graduating players were Ron Stork, Glad- den Schrock, Troy Ingram, Mike Yoder, and Dick Whistler.

B Team

The Manchester B Team, under the guidance of Coach Weddle, compiled an impressive 13-3 record for the season. The team exhibited power as it twice scored one hundred plus. Leading scorer for the year was Marv Kegerreis with 189, followed closely by Arman Stover, 184. Warren Curtis, Bill Snyder, Maurice Strycker, Ron Smith, and Garry Childers also scored over one hundred points each.
